

Concilium

Allocutio 21st January 2024

St. Paul

Rev. Fr. Eamon Devlin CM.

The Feast of the Conversion of St Paul which occurs on Thursday is one of the most significant conversions in the history of Christianity. Saul, persecutor personified of the early Church becomes Paul, preacher par excellence of the faith and apostle of the Gentiles. He is one of the patrons of the Legion, and for good reason.

Paul's Damascus experience of the Risen Christ, who asks him 'Why do you persecute me?' reveals to him the mystery of the Church as the Mystical Body of Christ – a mystery Paul took great pains to elaborate and proclaim. It is the mystery which underlies the Legion's understanding of itself and its mission: All have a place in Christ, all have a responsibility to do something about that place. The Legion has a place and a work for everyone – There is no least or greatest in the endeavour of making Christ present in the world for those who haven't met Him or who haven't stayed with Him. Every cell of the Legion from the smallest praesidium to Concilium itself is a manifestation of Christ's Mystical Body.

Part of St Paul's legacy to the Legion is the sense of belonging, the reaching out to the other. Christ invests Himself in the insignificant. The other part is his restless apostolic effort which he pursued at great personal cost. Our understanding of ourselves as Legionaries of Mary compels us to be no less than people who possess the Spirit of Mary - the Holy Spirit, and strive in all and every opportunity to make her Son known and loved. For some Legionaries this will include the kind of hardships St Paul endured by land and sea and in different cultural settings. For all of us it includes the sharing in the joys and sorrows of the Mystical Body of Christ, whether through prayer, outreach or even being among them in any of the ways the Legion makes possible through PPC and Correspondents.

We hear of difficulties endured by Christians in countries such as Nicaragua mentioned today. Yet, the work goes on. In Ireland there is now, a white martyrdom of faith. While reflecting on today's Feast Day of the Word of God, let us pray for Church Unity. As legionaries, we should know who we are and do something about being a member of the Christ's Mystical Body. The Mother of Jesus stands by us.

REPORTS

DUBLIN NORTHSIDE CURIAE

Presentata Curia: A praesidium is in charge of managing the Regina Coeli Hostel, where there are currently thirty-two (32) residents. Another praesidium assists with the running of the Morning Star Hostel, organising activities for the men and generally helping where needed. Ten attended the November Patricians on 'Purgatory'. Nineteen attended October Patricians entitled 'Halloween - A Catholic Perspective'. A praesidium has started a Sodality for women which is held monthly.

Exaltata Curia: Our Lady of Lourdes praesidium and Mountview praesidium have both reconvened after several years. Another praesidium assists with parish activities. Members also volunteer in the Regina Coeli hostel. A praesidium prepares and serves dinner twice a week in the Regina Coeli Hostel and also every fifth Sunday. It can be difficult to get sufficient legionaries to cover these shifts.

Veneranda Curia: Visitation in The Parish of St. Joseph, Berkeley Road is completed. A parish booklet has been delivered to every home. Columban Drives are planned for this year, especially in areas where praesidia are weak. A praesidium mans a book barrow after Sunday Masses. Members have restarted home visitation where people are encouraged to return to Mass and the sacraments. A legionary encountered a man who had heard a talk on confession during the Finglas project. The man had not been to confession for forty (40) years so the legionary accompanied him to confession. The man is now a member of a praesidium.

Bethlehem Curia: A praesidium's works include volunteering at Regina Coeli Hostel and visitation to a special case in hospital and another special case in a nursing home. Street contact work is also carried out. A recruitment drive is planned. Another praesidium which distributes twenty-five (25) Maria Legionis magazines, quarterly gained five (5) new auxiliaries this year. Street contact is done regularly in Mountjoy Square. Contacts who speak Spanish and Brazilian are informed of St. Mary of the Angels Church, Church Street and St. Saviour's Church, Dominick Street. Two young student teachers met on home visitation have lapsed. They accepted a confessions leaflet and promised to return to Mass. Lapsed Catholics who are encountered are always told of the power of the Eucharist.

Consolata Curia: A praesidium's works include home and nursing home visitation where they distribute Miraculous Medals, promote the rosary, give out blessed rosary beads, parish newsletters and hand out Holy Water. They stress the importance of the use of Holy Water, prayer, confessions and attending Eucharistic Adoration. They organise a May Procession every year. They distribute Miraculous Medals to the Confirmation and First Holy Communion classes. Frank Duff Prayer Meeting is held monthly and Miraculous Medal Novena is led weekly in the church. Junior praesidium meetings continue in St. Cronan's parish, Brackenstown. Recruitment drive was held recently in Donabate, yielding one probationary and four (4) auxiliary members. Title of November Patricians was "How can we relieve the suffering of the Holy Souls in Purgatory?" Five (5) legionaries and twelve (12) non-legionaries attended. Another praesidium's works include home and Rosary Statue visitation. The Legion poster is on the church noticeboard. To date over six hundred (600) homes were visited, five hundred and twenty-six (526) packs were distributed plus fifty-nine (59) extra Miraculous Medals, eighty-eight (88) bottles of Holy Water, thirty-eight (38) green scapulars, twenty-nine (29) brown scapulars, nineteen (19) Maria Legionis, one hundred and thirty-eight (138) rosary beads, twenty-five (25) Divine Mercy Chaplets. One lady said there was a bad feeling in her home. The legionaries noticed a Buddha in her garden and they advised her to remove it. She was not attending the sacraments. The legionaries encouraged her to return to mass and confession and she accepted rosary beads, Miraculous Medals and Holy Water. Parishioners request the Rosary

Statue to pray for their families, especially for children doing exams. Curia Annual Retreat is arranged for February and The Acies is arranged for Saturday 23rd March. A Mass was celebrated for Servant of God Alphonsus Lambe in St. Colmeille's Church, Swords on Sunday 21st January 2024, the anniversary of his passing from this life.

Porta Coeli Curia: Two new members were recently recruited. A praesidium's works include home visitation, nursing home visitation and bringing Holy Communion to sick parishioners. Another praesidium's main work is home visitation in which the rosary is promoted. Miraculous Medals and the Three Causes leaflets are distributed. One Protestant accepted the medal and another a rosary beads. Several people visited were suffering great grief due to suicides in their families and requested prayers. Another person told the legionaries that he was born in Regina Coeli Hostel and discovered many years later that he had a half-brother, also born in the same hostel, who had lost his life at an early age in a traffic accident. He was very grateful to the Legion for helping him to find his brother's grave in Glasnevin Cemetery.

IRISH PROVINCIAL REPORTS

COMITIA

Navan Comitium: The apostolate includes home and hospital visitation, rosaries in homes, Mass leaflets on "Why go to Mass" and other literature distributed. Over one hundred (100) converts were also mentioned. In Yaoundé Regia, one Curia visits refugees and the membership of another Curia has nearly doubled.

IVORY COAST

Senatus Notre Dame Mediatrice de Toute Grace: It is with deep sadness that we announce the death of Henri Gnadou, the secretary of the Senatus Notre Dame Mediatrice de Toute Grace in Ivory Coast who passed away on the 12th November 2023. May his soul rest in peace. Amen. All members of the Senatus are well involved and active in the Legion of Mary work. The Legion work carried out in the last three months includes: visitation of psychiatric hospitals, visitation of prisons, teaching of the catechism, home visitation, recruitment of new members in health centres, hairdressing, sewing workshops, schools and universities as well as during door-to door and street contact. Some fruits borne from these works include families having been reunited, couples marrying, lapsed people returning to Mass, people being baptised and new members joining the Legion of Mary. Some of the members are facing difficulties which prevent them from remaining active members. Some examples of these challenges are: praesidia are distant from where the members live, it is difficult to access due to bad roads and transport is very expensive. While trying to deal with these challenges, the members of the Senatus Notre Dame Mediatrice de Toute Grace in Ivory Coast have come up with good ideas to continue expanding the Legion of Mary i.e. organising workshops about our Lady with testimonies, participation in parish activities, especially during the months of the Virgin Mary (May, August and October) and coordination of relaxing outings, mini-vigils and weeks of legionary activities.

Legion of Mary Congresses 2024- 2025

With the reconvening of praesidia and return to in-person meetings, along with the great blessing of the establishment of many new praesidia throughout the world, now is a very opportune time to organise and hold Congresses. It is a cause of great joy to hear through correspondence and at the monthly Concilium meeting of so many Councils throughout the world holding Congresses, particularly in very recent times. We urge all Councils who have not held Congresses since before Covid times to plan and hold them in 2024 or 2025 at the latest, as we aim for all to be part of a great renewal of the body and that we all honour our Blessed Mother by carrying out Her plans for Her Legion.

In light of this, the extract selected this month from Some Handbook Reflections is as follows:

The Legion Congress (p.35- 37)

The Legion Congress forms a valuable part of the legionary system of formation. While not intended to be an annual event, “an area should not hold a Congress more often than every second year” (Handbook 30:5), the holding of a Congress every two or three years, while not mandatory, would seem very desirable.

The Congress is essentially a Curia function, at which all the members, not just the officers, of the praesidia in the Curia, can come together to discuss the main principles of the Legion. It is important that every member should have an opportunity of contributing to the discussions. This would not be possible in a very large assembly or where the function consists of a series of long talks by selected speakers.

In organising a Congress, it would be well to study carefully the relevant section in the handbook. Some points from that are listed here:

1. A whole day should be devoted to the Congress.
2. If possible, the proceedings should begin with Mass, followed by a short address by the Spiritual Director, or other priest, and should terminate with Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.
3. The day is divided into sessions. Each session should begin and close with prayer. Each subject should be very briefly opened up by someone who will have previously prepared his contribution.
4. Congresses are to be run on the parliamentary method, that is, on lines of universal participation, regulated from the chair. Careful timekeeping is important.
5. The assistance of some representatives of a higher governing body would be desirable.
6. The Congress should apply itself to the fundamentals. The subjects to be dealt with should concern the main principles of the Legion:
 - a) The devotional system of the Legion;
 - b) The legionary qualities, and how they are to be developed;
 - c) The methodical system of the Legion- including the conducting of the meetings and the members’ reports;
 - d) The Legion works, including the improvement of methods and the planning of new works
7. An item of the Congress should be a special Talk on some aspect of legionary devotion, idealism or duty. This is usually given as a Concluding Talk, at the close of the last session.
8. All the lessons learned at the Congress should be put into force by the Curia.
9. There should be changes in the programme from one Congress to the next “it is necessary that over a period of years much new ground be ploughed up.” (Handbook 30:5d)

It is important that the Congress be planned well in advance. To find a suitable date and venue and to draw up the programme, it seems desirable that preparations should be made at least six to eight months beforehand. It is also desirable that the next- highest governing body be consulted on the programme and that their suggestions be taken into account. As the attendance of some representatives of the higher council is desirable, adequate notice will be required. If the Congress is to be a success, it is obvious that all the members of the praesidia should have copies of the programme well in advance, at least six weeks beforehand, if possible, so that they will have time to prepare themselves to contribute fully to the Congress. Study of the subjects at praesidium meetings prior to the Congress would be very beneficial. Above all, all the legionaries should be encouraged to pray for the success of the Congress, which can be so important for themselves and for their apostolate.

Frank Duff Essays

We are very grateful to the legionaries who have given much time to enable the availability of the Frank Duff Essays at <https://www.frank-duff-essays.com/>. We hope that all will avail of this bountiful and free gift of these very inspirational writings of now Servant of God Frank Duff, founder of the Legion of Mary and that the essays will be read throughout the world. We very much encourage and request that you share the link for the website and the writings with others, and suggest that the essays be incorporated into the Frank Duff prayer meetings that are already in existence and those that are being formed. We also ask that all correspondents will further the global promotion of these essays through their own writing.

North American Maria Legionis to be translated into Spanish

Philadelphia Senatus produce the American Maria Legionis for the United States of America. To cater for the increasing number of Spanish speaking legionaries in USA, they proposed a Spanish translation for the magazine. Concilium were delighted to approve this. The translation will be done by Spanish speaking legionaries in Houston Senatus who requested the journal. Initially they predict five hundred- one thousand (500- 1,000) subscriptions from Spanish legionaries.
